London is the capital of England and attracts many tourists from all around the world. London is popular because it is multicultural and is full of individuality, anyone can fit in.

There are many sites to see around London, such as Buckingham Palace where the Queen lives and Westminster Abbey where the recent Royal Wedding was held. The photo on the top left is of London Eye, a big tourist attraction that gives a view of the whole of London and it goes slowly so that you get a good, long look. Through London is the Thames which is a very long river that is famous in England. There are many different bridges going over the river and they are named after the area in which they are located.

The picture on the right is of Westfield which is the biggest shopping centre in Europe - it even has a cinema! It has really good shops and is a great place to go shopping with friends.
